Averill Park, NY (PRWEB) August 13, 2015 -- Pulmonologist and Critical Care physician Anthony Santilli, MD will discuss how he reversed his diagnosed condition of burnout through the daily practice of meditation and its allied disciplines during The American Meditation Institute's (AMI) seventh annual mind/body medicine CME conference on meditation, yoga and breathing, November 3-7, 2015 at the Cranwell Resort and Spa in Lenox, Massachusetts. Entitled American Meditation: The Heart and Science of Yoga this 30 CME comprehensive physician training is accredited through the Albany Medical College Office of Continuing Medical Education.

CME Conference presenter Anthony Santilli MD received his medical degree from the University at Buffalo, having completed his fellowship at Weill Cornell University and his post-graduate training at Brown University. He is board-certified in Pulmonary and Critical Care medicine in Schenectady and Amsterdam New York, and serves as a member of AMI's Department of Medical Education.

During his CME presentation entitled, "Relieving Physician Burnout," Dr. Santilli will chronicle his personal five-year journey to reversing burnout. In his lecture, Dr. Santilli will recount the conditions that led to his burnout and the specific meditation, yoga and breathing tools he learned and employed that enabled him to transform the debilitating consequences of burnout into an increase in energy, creativity and a renewed dedication to his medical practice. According to Dr. Santilli, "Having been diagnosed with physician burnout, I found the practical teaching presented at The American Meditation Institute to be the perfect treatment and cure for my disease. Living life in harmony with the basic principles of practices such as meditation, gentle yoga exercises, diaphragmatic breathing and healthy food choices, I experienced a complete reversal of my chronically stressful condition.

According to faculty director Leonard Perlmutter, this year's seventh annual CME conference has assembled an impressive faculty of distinguished experts who will present lectures and provide practicums on meditation, diaphragmatic breathing, mantra science, Yoga psychology, mind function optimization, an understanding of the chakra system as a diagnostic tool, nutrition, functional medicine, epigenomics, Ayurveda, easy-gentle yoga and lymph system detoxification. The speakers include: Mark Pettus, MD, board-certified internist and nephrologist currently serving as Director of Medical Education and Population Health at Berkshire Health Systems; Beth Netter MD MT, holistic physician and acupuncturist in Albany, NY and chair of the AMI Medical Education Department; Prashant Kausik, MD, board-certified rheumatologist and interim Rheumatology Program Director at Albany Medical College and the VA Stratton Hospital, Albany, NY; Susan Lord MD, holistic physician and health consultant for Kripalu Center for Yoga and Health; Kathie Swift MS

RDN LDN, a leading educator and practitioner in the field of integrative nutrition; Rosy Mann BAMS, senior faculty member of Kripalu School of Ayurveda with over 15 years experience of clinical Ayurveda; and Jenness Cortez Perlmutter, co-founder of AMI and internationally known artist whose mediation practice has enhanced her remarkable detailed artistry.

AMI founder Leonard Perlmutter underscores that, “Physician stress and burnout are instructive indications that an individual needs to make a change in order to experience a healthy, creative and rewarding personal and professional life. This year’s conference is designed to teach physicians and healthcare providers how to employ meditational skills that can reliably diminish or eliminate burnout and chronic complex disease symptoms. This year’s core curriculum has been endorsed by medical pioneers Mehmet Oz MD, Dean Ornish MD and Bernie Siegel MD have also endorsed AMI’s core curriculum. Previous conference attendees have also noted that the material presented has made a beneficial impact toward their personal and professional efforts at self-care.”
